WELCOME

Welcome to the Community of Practice, a place for advocates and faculty of law, human rights, and patient care courses to share materials and resources. Additionally, we invite health providers and health managers, NGO activists, students and other stakeholders in health care service delivery to develop a network of strong practices regarding human rights in patient care. The Community of Practice has 3 main sections: Teaching Law and Health, Trainings on Human Rights in Patient Care and Media Tools. We invite you to visit all of the sections, to use the materials, and to provide comment and feedback as we continue to expand the Community of Practice.

Teaching Law and Health

The Teaching Law and Health section is a place for faculty of courses on law, human rights, and patient care to share materials on both content and teaching methodology. Some sections are public. Others are accessible only to members of the Community of Practice. These private features allow members to work together on activities such as designing syllabi and classroom lesson plans. There are 5 subsections: Curriculum Design and Methodology, Course Descriptions and Syllabi, Course Readings, Lesson Plans, and Case Studies. The moderator of the section is Judy Overall.

The screenshot displays the website's header with the logo "Community of Practice HealthRights" and the URL "www.Health-Rights.org Human Rights In Patient Care". The navigation menu includes "HOME PAGE", "TEACHING", "TRAININGS", "MEDIA TOOLS", "ABOUT THE PROJECT", and "CONTACT US". Below the menu are two sub-navigation options: "WORKING WITH MAINSTREAM MEDIA" and "WORKING WITH SOCIAL MEDIA".

The main content area features a "Media Tools" section with a photo of Mary Joyce. The text describes the section's purpose: "The Media Tools section is a place to access materials on media outreach. These materials provide guidance on traditional media outreach to journalists as well as new media outreach that allows organizations to connect directly to their target audiences using digital tools like social media sites, email, and blogs. These materials were initially prepared to help grantees promote the Practitioner Guides, though their lessons may be useful to other media initiatives. The moderator of this section is media-expert Mary Joyce." A caption below the photo states: "Mary Joyce has been a Media Consultant for the Open Society Institute's Health Media Initiative since 2009. She is based in the United States. More information at Mary.Joyce.com".

To the right of the main content is a "Sign in" section with a user icon, an "Email" input field, a password field, and links for "Forgot password?" and "Asking for men". Below this is a "Search" section with a magnifying glass icon and a search input field. At the bottom right is a "Flickr RSS" section with the RSS icon and the text "Flickr RSS".

At the bottom of the main content area, there are two columns: "Most Popular" and "New Materials". The "Most Popular" section lists "> Blog Release & Press Release" with a description: "The document has two pages. The first is a template for a press release.
